

Passageway

This Cedar passageway was installed in a church courtyard off a busy street. While the design echoes the neo-Gothic architecture, the use of curves and the clear cedar soften the landscape and create a more inviting passageway both when viewed from the street and walking through.

We build the passageway in our workshop, but ship it anywhere in the world.

It will all be made using only clear western red cedar that has been FSC certified. This means that the logging practices our wood suppliers adhere to are the highest in the world. In addition, your passageway would come with two coats of finish and it is complete with an installation system.

The cost for the passageway is $17,000.00. This price does not include shipping. The design of the structure will remain the same but the price does include one re-design of the side panels if required.
